

Pro Bono Success Story

Susan Monroe

I joined WIC to become part of a powerful and well-respected women's group and to connect meaningfully with other women business owners. Being a member of WIC has been an essential element in the growth of my business. I strongly recommend it to other women.

- My WIC experience has helped me run my business in a more focused and intelligent way.
- The most surprising benefit to being a WIC member has been the inspiring personal and professional relationships that I've developed.
- I love being a WIC pro bono team member. Working closely with other WIC members as a member of the pro bono team provides me the opportunity to polish my skills and to learn new ones.

Written Right

Written Right creates crisp, compelling copy that helps clients differentiate themselves from competitors and stand out in their markets.

We specialize in serving technology companies of all sizes, as well as small businesses.

Years in business: 5

- Learn more at www.writtenright.com

Pro Bono Snapshot

WIC pro bono roles: WIC newsletter editor, message board coordinator, marketing co-chair

Years as a WIC member: five

Years as a Pro Bono Team member: five

